THREE NATIONS THREATEN WAR ON AUSTRIA IF KARL REGAINS THRONE

Budapest, March 31.—Three nations today threatened to make war on Hungary if former Emperor Carl takes the throne. They demand that he be expelled from the country. This threat and demand come from Roumania, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia.

Simultaneous with the news of the virtual ultimatum it was reported that Emperor Carl was marching on Budapest with an army of 30,000 men. He has already passed Raft.

Former Emperor Carl announced today that he is resolved to mount the throne, according to dispatches received from his headquarters in Steinamanger.

Premier Mayer of Austria convoked Parliament to meet tomorrow and declare that Austria was opposed to Carl's return. He assured the Allies that Austria will reject him.

Carl, according to dispatches from Steinamanger, appointed Count Sigmund governor of western Hungary and General Lehart commander of the royal forces.

FORMER EMPEROR KARL BELIEVED TO BE MAKING EFFORT TO REGAIN THRONE

Paris, March 31.—Former Emperor Carl staked everything in a desperate effort to regain his throne today, seizing control of Western Hungary, according to advices from Vienna. A Vienna dispatch to the Volks Zeitung said the army in Western Hungary had gone over to Carl and that the populace was rallying to his support. Carl was reported to have sent an ultimatum to the Hungarian government demanding the abdication of Admiral Horthy, the regent. In Western Hungary Carl assumed full control under the direction of military dictatorship.

Carl late yesterday drove to the wedding of a former lady in waiting to the empress. He was wildly applauded.

Carl's military supporters offered their troops for an advance on Budapest. He declined their offer. "I am opposed to blood shed," he said. "It must be averted at any cost." The military forces in Western Hungary are reported to be the most powerful in that country. General Lehart was reported to have full control over them and the adherents of the former ruler will rally to his support to withstand any government action.

Vienna, March 31.—A military dictatorship was reported to have been established in western Hungary. Former Emperor Carl is at Steinamanger in western Hungary. The military forces there are under control of General Lehart, who is said to have rejected Carl's plea to support him in an attempt to regain the throne. Dispatches received today were fragmentary.

PRESIDENT BEGINS CONFERENCES ON PLANS TO UNSCRAMBLE RAILROADS

Washington, March 31.—President Harding today began conferences from which he expects to evolve a plan for amending the railroads. This problem he believes is the most grave one he has to consider. The president conferred with Chairman Clark of the interstate commerce commission and Judge R. M. Barton, head of the Railroad Labor Board, who was called to Washington by Harding.

STATE ROAD CONTRACTORS WILL BE NOTIFIED TO GET TO WORK QUICKLY

Harrisburg, March 31.—Contractors at work on road construction throughout the state will be notified within the next two or three days that they must begin construction work at once. Orders to this effect have been issued to the district engineers by Colonel William D. Uhler, chief engineer of the department.

The advanced season will give the contractors a two weeks' start over 1920.

When the road builders were compelled to cease operations at the coming of cold weather last fall, 467 miles of durable thoroughfare under contract remained to be completed. Some of the contractors in the southern tier of counties were able to continue rough grading operations over the winter months, but in the more northern sections all work was stopped.

THOUSANDS ATTEND GIBBONS FUNERAL AT BALTIMORE

Baltimore, Md., March 31.—10,000 men, women and children stood outside the Cathedral today in a cold drizzle of rain paying the last tribute to their life-long friend, Cardinal Gibbons. The Cathedral was filled with mourners who came early today to observe the funeral rights of the noted Prelate. Before the Cathedral was closed at midnight last night more than 50,000 persons had visited the Cathedral in the last 48 hours to get a glimpse of his face. The eulogy pronounced by Archbishop Gorman, of St. Louis, a close friend of the Cardinal, was a master piece of character analysis in eloquent but simple phraseology. The mass of repose was sung by Archbishop Bonzano, Papal Delegate.

13 MONTHS OLD BOY WANTING A HOME WHO WILL GIVE IT?

Somewhere in this community there is a good home just waiting to be brightened up by a little child and happily for that home there is a little thirteen months old boy in this community just waiting to bring rays of sunshine into that home. He is awaiting an invitation and will have a big smile ready for the couple who want to open their doors to him.

The Progress knows nothing more about this little fellow except that he needs and deserves a home. We have four of our own or we would take him in.

Anybody interested will please see Mr. John A. Stock of Clearfield. In this matter Mr. Stock is acting as a private citizen and not as court officer.

CLEARFIELD COUNTY INVESTED $31,460 IN SAVINGS STAMPS

According to final statistics received from W. Harrison Walker, Assistant to the Director of the Savings Division of the Third Federal, for 1920, we find that Clearfield County ranks thirty-fifth in the forty-eight counties of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, and had a per capita for the year of $20.

The following is a statement of the various denominations of savings securities purchased by the people of our county during 1920:

25c Savings Stamps 4,922
$5.00 Savings Stamps 4,332
$100.00 Treasury Savings Certificates 72
$100.00 Treasury Savings Certificates 2

A maturity value of $31,460.00 is represented in the purchase of these Government Savings investments.

The report for January 1921 places Clearfield County fifteenth with a per capita of 16c. In other words, 1-3 as many of these savings securities were purchased during January 1921, as were purchased during the entire year of 1920, and this is indeed most gratifying.

During April, 1921, the $5.00 Savings Stamps will cost $4.15 each, $25.00 Treasury Savings Certificates $20.75; $100.00 Treasury Savings Certificates $83.00 and the $100.00 Treasury Savings Certificates $82.00. These securities increase in value and cost a month, 1c, 5c, 20c and $2.00 each, respectively.

Their good features are: short term maturing January 1, 1926; absolute safety; free from State and normal income taxes; easily redeemable; interest rate, 4 per cent, compounded quarterly if held to maturity; they never depreciate—always worth more than was paid for them.

MRS. GEO. H. HALL

Sarah Heisey Hall, daughter of John Heichel Heisey and Anna Gulich Heisey, was born in Lawrence township, Clearfield county, Jan. 20th, 1838. Died March 30th, 1921, aged 83 years, 2 months and 10 days, at her home in Centre, Lawrence township, where she went to housekeeping sixty years ago.

On Jan. 22, 1861 she was united in marriage to Geo. H. Hall, who preceded her to the grave, Jan. 8, 1920. To this union were born six children, of whom the following survive:

Mrs. Frank Smith, Topeka, Kansas; G. Chas. Hall, of Clearfield; Mrs. Ralph P. Heisey and Miss Lela Hall at home.

A son, J. Lewis Hall, died Jan. 31, 1894, and a daughter, Mrs. Anna H. Long, died March 18th, 1903.

She is also survived in her late home by her mother, Anna Gulich Heisey (who will be 105 years of age May 7th next) and two sisters, Mrs. E. A. Leavy, of Clearfield, and Miss Alice Heisey, of McKeesport, Pa.

Previous to her marriage she was a teacher in the public schools of Clearfield.

Though busy with the usual cares of a household she always found time for self improvement and up to the last was a diligent student of secular as well as church and Sunday School topics.

When a young girl she united with the English Evangelical Lutheran church and has been a consistent member ever since, though on account of failing health was not privileged to attend the public services regularly for several years. The funeral will be held from her late home Saturday afternoon at 2:30, conducted by her pastor, the Rev. E. Roy Hauser, of the Lutheran church assisted by the Rev. W. W. Hartman, of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church. Interment in the family plot at Centre.

PENNSY ASKS EMPLOYEES TO ACCEPT NEW WAGE RATE AND GIVES REASONS WHY WAGE CUT IS THOUGHT NECESSARY

18th-Burgh, March 31.—The Pennsylvania Railroad employees today were asked by the management to accept reduction in pay so that the company "could meet its financial requirements to take care of taxes, fixed charges and other obligations so as to make net earnings of approximately $107,000,000 a year of an average earning of $9,000,000 a month."

This plea was made to the representatives of the maintenance of way, shopmen and unskilled laborers today by C. S. Crick, general manager of the eastern region.

According to the arrangements laborers averaging 48 1/2 cents an hour would receive 37, 35, 32 1/2 and 30 cents an hour, depending on the territory in which the men are employed.

Immediately after presentation of the company's plan Leo J. Kennedy, of Wilmington, Del., general chairman of the maintenance of way, and shopmen asked for an adjournment until 3 o'clock to give the union committee time to consider the proposed reduction. The answer of union officials was expected to be given late today.

Crick said the pay roll of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company increased 108 per cent from 1917 to 1920. "At the present rate," Crick said, "the men get in wages 70 cents for every $1.00 the railroad receives for operating. The remaining 30 cents is not sufficient to pay for the fuel and other equipment. This railroad ought to have net earnings of approximately $107,000,000 a year or an average of $9,000,000 a month. In the period from September to February, inclusive, we had an operating expense of $37,000,000 or an average of $8,125,000 a month. We received for this same period $4,700,000 or 42 per cent short of our requirements."

Crick told the employees that "it cost the railroad $1.05 for every $1.00 it took in without considering taxes, fixed charges and other obligations."

WILLIAM RUSSEL FUNERAL TOMORROW AFTERNOON

The funeral services of Lieut. William P. Russel, whose home is at Curwensville, will be held from the home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. John C. Collins and Rev. Lantz, former pastor while the American Legion of which the young man was a member, will act as escort.

The community was shocked yesterday to learn of the untimely death of Lieut. Russel, whose father is Mr. C. S. Russel, of Curwensville, and was doubly shocked to learn that his death was self-inflicted. The young man, who was well and favorably known to a legion of friends, was employed by the National Bank of Commerce of New York City, and no reason whatever can be ascribed for the rash act. He was getting along finely at his work and had only recently been promoted. The New York Post this morning says the "officers of the National Bank of Commerce where Mr. Russel was employed were unable to describe any reason today for the suicide."

William P. Russel was twenty-six years of age. He visited his father who was in New York, only a few hours before he died.

The family have the sincerest sympathy of the community.

LETTER FROM "HY" WATERS

Roseville, Calif. March 25, '21 Dear Skinner:

Will drop you a few lines. I arrived in Roseville, O. K. Had a most wonderful trip coming. Great trip through the great snow sheds and across the Sierra Nevada mountains. On top of the mountains at a place called Truckee, we found 7 to 15 feet of snow and in two hours were down in all kinds of fruit orchards in blossom; it really seemed possible but it's all true.

"They say California is the country of sunshine and roses and fruit, what I have seen so far it's all true. I am having a fine time here, give my regards to all.

Have been receiving The Progress almost every day. Your friend, H. J. WATERS, Roseville, California

BOARDMAN

The winding up of the church year, Easter Sunday, was a decided success. Sunday night was special in many ways. Being Easter, the Communion service was very interesting, as well as inspirational. There were eight baptisms, four during holy week and four on Sunday. Of these, seven were adults and one infant. At the close of the baptismal service sixteen persons united with the church more than half coming from the Sunday School. A special offering, resulted in the sum of $7.79 for famine relief in China. The church commences the year with a clean slate, having paid all of its bills for the present year. The choir furnished appropriate music, which all appreciated. The attendance was large and everybody had the happy and buoyant spirit of the season.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By "Skinney"

The experiences of John Meese and his wife of Bloomington Indiana, remind one of that famous laconic dispatch of Section Foreman Finegan, who had been notified by the superintendent to make his report, brief. When a train jumped the track and had gone its way after being placed back on the rails, Finegan made himself famous by sending this short account of the happening—"Off again, on again, gone again—Finegan." Meese and his wife have been married no less than five times. They were divorced four times and when it looked as though the jury was going to refuse to "unhitch" them for the fifth time, they had the suit dismissed and are going to try it again.

There ought to be real joy in the hearts of the Republican faithful in these parts over the selection by President Harding of Colonel Hubert Work, of Pueblo, Colorado, for the office of First Assistant Postmaster General. The Post Assistant does the "hiring and firing" for the Post Office Department and the holder of his position has always been called the "head-man" or "official decapitator" of the new administration. What will appeal to local patriots, willing to serve their country for a proper consideration, is the fact that First Assistant Postmaster General Work is a native of Indiana county, Pa.

Colonel Work was born and reared in East Mahoning township near Marion Center. He grew to manhood on his father's farm there and a number of years ago moved to Pueblo, Colorado, where he has been a prominent figure in public life and one of the most active Republicans of the state. He took an active part in the last campaign as an ardent supporter of President Harding.

Barbers sure are resourceful. At east William H. Bushnell, of Syracuse, N. Y., is. Besides wielding a slicked razor Bushnell easily got the better of old hie I by maintaining his families on his paltry $25 per week. In order to save cash fare, Bushnell located his two wives within one mile of each other and when wife No. 2 made a neighborly call on wife No. 1 and her three children the barber financier got into a peck of trouble and the county jail.

Our old friend Woodrow is not so low even though the terrible load he is forced to carry as head of this nation the past eight years has left him weakened and crippled in body. His mind however is just as keen as it ever was, and that is more than could be truthfully said of any other American to occupy the Presidential chair. This fact was demonstrated recently by a couple of snooty Woodrow expellers recently. When a friend asked him whether he would like to see advance sheets of Secretary Lansing's book he replied—"No. If it suits Lansing it is mine." Another friend suggested that the new administration would do well to get into war with Mexico. "I don't see," quickly replied Mr. Wilson, "I shall go to an officers training camp" which would also lead one to believe that all ex-Presidents are ultimately inclined regardless of physical handicaps.

Uniontown, Pa. March 22—Gals must wear corsets must have a recommendation of character and if they are not 21 years old must produce a written consent from their parents in order to dance this summer at the Summit Hotel, here.

These and other drastic regulations on the coming season were announced yesterday by L. L. Hays, owner of the hotel.

Wives cannot motor to the hotel for dancing without the knowledge of their husbands. Women wearing the national ring will be asked "I hat you husband with you."

Women wearing conspicuous attire will not be permitted to dance. Both a man and a woman will be employed as censors.

Mr. Hays explained yesterday that because of the conduct of gals at the hotel last season it became necessary to discontinue dancing.

COULD NOT KEEP HOUSE!

Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Says Mrs. Pitts of Newburgh

Newburgh, N. Y. — "My trouble was a weak back and I could not walk, I was tired out. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in a newspaper and decided to give it a trial. Now I can do my own work and walk with ease. I always keep it in the house. It certainly is my best friend and I can't keep house without it. I have recommended it to many and always with success. You may use this letter if you wish." —Mrs. EDWARD PITTS, 2 High St., Newburgh, N. Y.

It has been said that "backache is an invention of the Evil One to try women's souls," but even so, it is more often a symptom of a female trouble which sooner or later declares itself. Day after day it drags a woman down and night after night prevents restful sleep. Such women should follow Mrs. Pitts' advice and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and regain health.

Letters about your health will be given careful attention and held in strict confidence if you write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Their experience of over 40 years is at your service.

There are two kinds of people—those who wear comfortable shoes and those who think they have pretty feet.

Nothing upsets a man more than to have to wheel his baby through a crowd of women in which are two or three he used to keep company with.

A local man says he doubted whether one man such as Kreisler could keep him entertained for a whole evening. How about a lady?

On March 22 under the caption "Mothers of This City Interested in Child Welfare," there appeared in this paper quite a lengthy article regarding this visit here of a "Field Secretary" of the Child Conservation League. It explained that the league was a national organization headed by renowned men and women; it declared that "much interest is being shown in this good work and that it is hoped that a splendid circle of the league may be organized here."

The article in question was handed to The Progress by the field secretary, and under the impression that the Child Conservation League was one of those welfare organizations which is operated on a philanthropic basis, it was printed and given considerable prominence.

It now develops that any benefits that might accrue to the child through the Child Conservation League is contingent on the mother of the child investing something over $40 in a set of books, and after that, on her having time to meet with the other mothers who have parted with the $40, to discuss the subject matter.

The Progress feels, in view of these developments, that this statement should be made, as the former publication would indicate that we fully endorsed the proposition.

Eighth grade examinations are announced for April 9, in different parts of the county. We have felt that for several years there has not been enough importance attached to the eighth grade examinations. In the larger town schools the transition from lower grades to high school is so certain that the importance of the finishing of the simple and more fundamental course of study is lost sight of in the eagerness to get into the high school.

The passing of the eighth grade examination really marks the passing of the first epoch, and in many cases the last one, in the child's educational life. In the great majority of cases it is farther along the path of education than their fathers and mothers advanced or ever hoped to advance. We have so minimized the eighth grade certificate or diploma to such an extent that very few of its recipients think it worth while to keep the document when, representing what it does, it should be a prized possession.

The pupil who has satisfactorily passed the final examination has accomplished a great deal. It is the result of eight years of attendance at public school and is evidence that the pupil has applied himself or herself with earnestness to their studies. In addition to showing what has been accomplished it is the passport which opens wide the portals to higher institutions of learning.

It is a crime to deprive or allow a child to be deprived of the full and complete eight grades of study and no child should be permitted to leave school in this age until he has earned the eighth grade diploma.

"Women delight to pry into men's secrets."

"I know it. Had a friend once—married. Every night after dinner he used to sit and stare into the fire and his wife used to ask him what he was thinking about. He would look up at her owlishly and tell her it was something he couldn't explain to her, because she'd never understand it—and that was all he would tell her, although right frequently, I dare say, he felt like telling her some things she could understand? She brooded over his secret until she couldn't stand it any more, and one day she packed her duds and flew home to mother. He let her stay there three months, and finally one day he sent her a blue print of what he'd been thinking about."

"What was it?"
"An internal-combustion engine. You see, until she left him, he'd never been able to get set to figure out something in connection with the inlet valves."

"Stop right there, Caliph. I'm rebuked. I'll let you get set to think."

"I didn't mean that. You let me get set yesterday—and I figured it all out then—and last night—and a minute ago. I don't care to do any more thinking today. Please talk to me."

"And you refuse to tell me why you cubed your friend, Jerome?"

"You will never know. I told you it's a secret."

"Bet you I find out."

"How much? That $10,000 you expect to make from the flour-gold in your black-and-sand claim? And, by the way, $10, please. I won it for guessing you were interested in a mining proposition."

She returned to him the bill she had won from him the day before. "Ten thousand dollars suits me. Of course, I haven't got the money just now, and this is what Billy calls a finger bet, but if I lose, I guarantee to pay. Are we betting even money? I think that is scarcely fair. Under the circumstances I should be entitled to odds."

"Nothing doing! No odds on a bet of this nature to a seeress who has already jarred me from soul to vertebrae appendix by making good! You know too blamed much already, and how you discovered it is a problem that may drive me crazy yet."

After breakfast they repaired to the veranda to await the result of Webster's experiment with Don Juan Cafetero. Sure enough, the wreck had again returned, he was seated on the edge of the veranda waiting for them; as they approached, he held up a grimy, quivering hand, in the palm of which lay a five-dollar gold piece.

"What?" Mr. Webster said, amazed.

"Still unchanged!"

"I tried to change it at half a dozen cantinas," Don Juan wheezed, "but devil a bit of system did any av them have. Wan offered this in spigoty money an' the other offered that, an' sure if I'd taken the best that was offered me in exchange, ye might have thought I'd tuk more nor wan drink."

"Bravo! Three long, loud, raucous cheers for Don Juan Cafetero!" Do-lores cried. "Was it a terrible task to come back without a drink, Don Juan?"

He shivered. "A shky-blue kangaroo wit' a pink tail an' green ears chased me into this patio, ma'am."

"You're very brave, Caffery. How does it feel to win back your self-respect?" Webster asked him.

"Begg'n' the young leddy's pardon—it feels like hell, son."

"Caliph, don't be cruel," Dolores pleaded. "Call a waiter and give Don Juan what you promised him."

So Webster went into the hotel bar and returned presently with a bottle of brandy and a glass, which he filled and held out toward Don Juan. "One of the paradoxes of existence, Don Juan," he observed, "lies in the fact that so many of the things in life that are good for us are bad for us. This jolt will disperse the menagerie and quiet your nerves, but nevertheless it is a nail in your coffin."

Webster, accompanied by his protegee, strolled uptown on a shopping tour. Here he outfitted Don Juan neatly but not gaudily and added to his own personal effects two high-power sporting rifles, three large-caliber automatic pistols, and a plentiful supply of ammunition—after which he returned to the hotel, first having conducted Don Juan to a barber shop and given him instructions to report for orders and his mid-day drink the instant he should have acquired the outward evidences of respectability.

At the hotel Webster found two messages awaiting him. One was from Billy Geary, up at San Miguel de Padua, advising him that everything was in readiness for a trip to the mine; the other was a note from Ricardo Ruer, who signed with his alias of Andrew Bowers. Webster read:

BUSINESS AND TRADE
With Special Attention to Coal, Clay and Brick
Trade News of Local Interest

Benjamin Toney, a well-known local young business man, has purchased a half interest in the wholesale fruit business established on Third street by the late Frank Cimo, and since his death conducted by James Cimo, brother of the deceased.

James Cimo will retain a half interest in the concern and after April 1 the firm name will be Cimo and Toney. Both young men are hustlers, thoroughly understand the fruit and produce business and hope to branch out considerably after getting started. They will add an additional auto delivery truck to their equipment and will be in shape to handle promptly and satisfactorily all orders for fruit and produce from anywhere in this section of the county.

AN ENCOURAGING ANNOUNCEMENT

Much significance can be attached to the announcement made by S. W. Strauss and Company, relative to their willingness to loan money at six per cent for building purposes. This concern, which has offices in all large cities in the United States, is widely known as a very reputable and conservative business concern, hence what is said by them carries much weight.

They have advertised widely that it is in their opinion good judgment to build now. They urge the resumption of all forms of building construction on a broad scale and make no reservation whatever.

These statements they issue on the basis of facts obtained in a nation wide survey which they have made and which reveals the shortage of at least one million homes, and reduced stocks in the hands of manufacturers and dealers in building supplies that presage exhaustion and high prices if anything like real activity gets under way.

With the great demand for construction admitted, money being available and with such a reliable concern as the S. W. Strauss and Company advocating going ahead, the situation is looking brighter every day to the clay manufacturer.—Brick and Clay Record.

PRUNING GRAPES

When is the best time to prune grapes? Our friend Tim says late in February or early in March in Northern states.

Our own rule is to prune grapes after severe winter weather is over and before the vines bleed. Here is the secret of pruning grapes in a few words. The grapes bear fruit only from buds on wood of the past summer's growth. Keep that principle in mind.

Sixty buds on the bearing wood of a grape-vine are about the maximum for a strong vine; a less number is better for vines of weaker growth. Sixty buds should bear 150 bunches of grapes. Some growers prefer leaving about thirty buds with two buds on each; others leave ten or twelve shoots with enough buds on each to make sixty. The vines to trellis or stakes.

Old wood weakens grape-vines. The trunk of the vine should be renewed every few years. This can be done by leaving a shoot which comes out near the ground. In a year or two the old trunk can be cut away just above the place where the new trunk grows out from the old.

HOW TO HANDLE PARIS GREEN IN BATTLE AGAINST THE BUGS

(By United Press)

The first veteran to be enlisted in the battle against the bugs is Paris Green who has fought and won many a battle against plant pests. Mr. Green can certainly get action if handled in the right way and for the right things, says the American Forestry Association.

You are wasting time with Paris

Green on insects that suck the juices from plants and foliage, such as lice, green, black and white aphids or fly, mealy bug, red spider and scale, by throwing their proboscis into the leaf or stem, for they are not affected by stomach poisons. They must be destroyed by contact insecticides. Those in powder form kill by closing the breathing pores in the insects' skin, or in the fluid form, by being absorbed through these pores, the association point, out. The best contact insecticide in powder form are hellebore, slug shot and tobacco dust. The best in fluid form are aphine, black leaf 40, l-h (whale) oil soap, nicotine (tobacco extract), kerosene miscible oil and lemon oil.

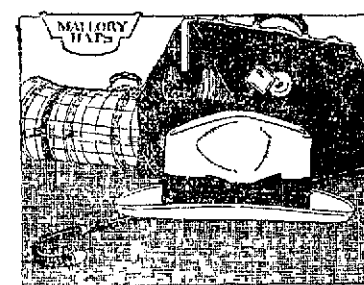

Insects that eat plants, foliage, vegetables, fruits, flowers etc., whether bugs, beetles, worms, caterpillars or flies are more quickly and effectively destroyed with a poisonous stomachic insecticide, such as arsenate of lead, Paris Green or hellebore. These, if applied according to directions are so diluted as to be harmless to vegetation and to animal life. Less poisonous stomachic and contact insecticides are kerosene emulsion, bug shot etc.

Paris Green is still a satisfactory insecticide, if its foliage-burning qualities are overcome with the addition of a small amount of lime. Arsenate of lead is more satisfactory material, which seems to meet most of the requirements for an arsenical poison that will not injure foliage, has good adhesive qualities, and if in the powdered form will not deteriorate by drying or freezing. The powdered arsenate of lead is therefore recommended over the paste form, which consists of fifty per cent. of water and adds to the cost of transportation.
